

Important Update re: COVID-19

- Wasmond Center residents are cleared for virus

After two rounds of testing, all of the residents evaluated at the Marklund Wasmond Center have received negative test results for the COVID-19 virus.

IDPH regulations required that we test those residents and staff who had possibly been exposed to a PSP who had reported a positive result. Those individuals were identified through contact tracing.

Currently no other staff members have had a positive result. We are awaiting the report for the second round taken on employees.

Once through this testing process, we are confident that the Wasmond Center will advance to Phase 3 of the State's Long Term Care facilities reopening plan.

I will continue to keep you updated as necessary.

Enjoy your weekend—
