

COURTESY OF TIFFANY ZUREK

Gil Fonger, president and CEO of Marklund, is among the first staff to get the new COVID-19 vaccine at the Marklund Philip Center in Bloomingdale.

Marklund Philip Center vaccinates 110 residents and staff members

Submitted by Dawn Lassiter-Brueske

The Marklund Philip Center in Bloomingdale became the first of the nonprofit's facilities to receive the coronavirus vaccine Thursday, Jan. 14.

Marklund is a residential, therapeutic and educational organization that serves children and adults with profound developmental disabilities. Walgreens staff set up the clinic for all eligible residents and staff.

Marklund President and CEO Gil Fonger and the oldest Philip Center resident, Sarah G., were first in line to receive

